

Chammas & Marcheteau advises Ed.AI on its €1.7 million's fundraising (Artificial Intelligence / Education)

Chammas & Marcheteau advised the Lyon-based start-up Ed.AI on its seed fundraising of 1.7 million euros from investors Ring Capital, AFI Ventures, CentraleSupélec Venture, and of business angels.

Founded in 2024, Ed.AI develops an artificial intelligence solution for teachers, facilitating the correction of students' exams and the creation of personalized remediation courses. The tool integrates seamlessly into existing teaching practices, allowing teachers to save valuable time.

This funding will enable Ed.AI to expand to around 100 schools by 2025, broaden its scope to other levels of education and disciplines, and accelerate its international development by 2026.

The Chammas & Marcheteau team consisted of Denis Marcheteau (partner), Arys Serdjanian and Jérémie Lolmède (associates) on corporate aspects, of Caroline Canavese (partner) on employment law aspects, and of Aude Spinasse (partner) and Constance Parini (associate) on intellectual property aspects.
