Stellaria's €23 million fundraising (Nuclear/Energy/Deeptech)

Chammas & Marcheteau advised Supernova Invest, co-lead investor alongside US-based At One Ventures, on Stellaria's €23 million fundraising, joined by historical investors CEA Investissement, Technip Energies and Schneider Electric.

Founded in 2023, Stellaria is developing a fourth-generation molten salt nuclear reactor (MSR – Molten Salt Reactor) technology.

This new financing will enable Stellaria to complete preparatory laboratory experiments, double its workforce, and move forward in identifying a site for its 10MW prototype reactor (approximately one-twentieth the size of the final version).

The Chammas & Marcheteau team was composed of Lola Chammas (partner) and Romain Penloup (counsel) on corporate aspects, Christophe Moreau (partner) and Marjorie Masoni (associate) on tax aspects, Coline Bied-Charreton (partner) on employment law aspects, and Aude Spinasse (partner) and Constance Parini (associate) on intellectual property aspects.
