

Chammas & Marcheteau advises Damae Medical on its €15 million financing round (Medtech/AI/Health)

Chammas & Marcheteau advised Damae Medical on its €15 million Series B fundraising led by Creadev, alongside historical investors Kurma Partners, ISPB and BNP Paribas Développement.

Founded in 2014, Damae Medical develops non-invasive imaging devices enabling dermatologists to improve diagnosis, particularly in the detection of skin cancers. More than 120 deepLive™ devices, powered by real-time AI, are currently deployed.

This new financing will allow the company to accelerate the deployment of its technology, which is already used in more than fifteen countries across Europe, the United States and Australia, and to continue enhancing its software solutions.

The Chammas & Marcheteau team consisted of Nicolas Lecocq (partner) and Sandie Dion (associate).
