

Chammas & Marcheteau strengthens its private client tax expertise with the arrival of Sophie Mouthon as partner

Sophie Mouthon joins the Tax Law department of the law firm Chammas & Marcheteau as a partner.

Sophie advises corporate and high-net-worth individual, on both private and professional issues in a domestic and international context, covering advisory work as well as litigation matters.

After nearly 25 years at international law firm Latham & Watkins, Sophie joined CFM Avocats in 2020, where she headed the tax practice.

Together with her associates, Marine Delatte and Aurore Khan, Sophie will strengthen our tax law practice, which will now consist of two partners and five associates.

Denis Marcheteau, co-founding partner, comments: "We are delighted to welcome Sophie, Marine and Aurore as part of the firm's strong growth momentum. Strengthening our private client tax expertise enables us to meet the increasing demand from our French and international clients, including shareholders, business leaders and family offices".

Christophe Moreau, partner in the Tax practice, comments: "Our firm's sustained growth has been accompanied by an ever-increasing demand for tax advice. In this context, welcoming Sophie and her team was a natural choice. Her recognized expertise and extensive experience in private client taxation perfectly complement our existing practice, as do her personal qualities, which are essential to our firm's culture. Her arrival marks a key milestone in the development of our Tax practice".

Sophie Mouthon comments: "I am delighted to be joining Chammas & Marcheteau's Tax practice together with my team. The quality of the firm's practice is widely recognized, and I am very pleased to be joining a firm renowned not only for its excellence but also for its strong human values. I look forward to contributing to the firm's continued development and to providing our clients with the highest level of service."
